Your Information and Our Privacy Policy

Why do we collect and hold your information?

We are required by the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Commonwealth) (AML/CTF Act) to collect, verify, and hold information about your identity and the underlying transaction before we are able to extend financial services to you, and in order to allow us to continue extending those services to you. The AML/CTF Act also requires that we continue to hold this information about you for seven years after we cease to extend our products and services to you.

How do we use your information?

We may use information you provide to us to:

- execute your instructions;
- determine charges and billing;
- assess your suitability for our products and services;
- direct market suitable products and services to you;
- maintain and develop our business systems and management processes; and/or
- comply with legal and regulatory requirements.

Our use of your information is governed by our Privacy Policy and by the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). More information can be found on our website or by contacting our Privacy Officer (privacy.officer@baplink.org.au).

To whom do we disclose your information?

As part of the requirements under the AML/CTF Act and consistent with normal business practices, we may be required to disclose your information to one or more of the following:

- entities that verify identity and perform KYC due diligence under the AML/CTF Act;
- lawyers, conveyancers, accountants, brokers, and agents representing you;
- contractors for statement printing and mail out, card and cheque production; and/or
- law enforcement and government agencies as required by law or in compliance with their lawful orders relating to their enforcement activities.

Do you wish to know more?

If you wish to confirm what information is held by Baplink, to correct that information, or to complain about Baplink's handling of your information, please contact us by telephone, email, or in writing as follows:
